

Introducing Jeel Bhatt: Our New Charity Review Officer

We are pleased to welcome Jeel Bhatt to the team as our Charity Review Officer. Jeel will be managing our growing business of evaluating nonprofit organizations across a range of criteria and providing reviews and ratings of their effectiveness and impact.

Prior to joining Veritas, Jeel worked at BRAC Bangladesh on the Humanitarian Crisis Management Team, supporting the Rohingya refugee response across eight sectors, and at the University of Toronto's Critical Global Learning team, where she organized industry-expert forums and multi-stakeholder events. Jeel holds a BA Honours in International Development Studies from the University of Toronto and is particularly interested in nonprofits' organizational efficiency and their role in strengthening social impact.

The VERITAS CHARITY REVIEW is a data-driven analytical rating that measures how well a Charity has performed compared to similar Charities in size and Category. The Rating Review provides a Star Rating from 1 to 5 stars.

Why not consider a Rating Review of your Charitable Organization? More information is available HERE.
